Thanks.

I'm going to pass your info onto Ana Lasso at Expo Park in case she needs to touch base with you on the MLK widening. She's been in discussions with public works on it.

Notice to Proceed would likely be mid-July.

The widening project staff are aware of My Fig and will adjust as necessary when that project moves forward. And yes, MLK includes some sidewalk repair.

Couple follow-up questions:

-When do you anticipate the contractor being brought on board?

-On the MLK street widening, I'm curious does the widening impact existing public right of way infrastructure like the new pedestrian lights, existing street trees, etc? Also, part of the My Fig MLK improvements include sidewalk repair, right?

Thanks.

6 months includes some of the work we've done already and we also expect the remaining process to be accelerated.

We will not be able to provide a timeline until we have a contractor on board. But yes, we can schedule something with the stakeholders once that happens.

We are aware of the project at MLK and it will not significantly impact My Fig (the right turn pocket can co-exist with the bike lane; we wouldn't necessarily come up with a similar project now but it is a funded hold-over from a previous era, so to speak).

Thanks, couple more questions.

-Doesn't the bid process take a minimum of 6 months before construction begins.

-At our monthly board meeting today, several stakeholders wanted me to request a timeline/schedule from you going forward. Can you put that together for us? We also definitely need to meet with the contractor and our major stakeholders (Expo Park/USC) once the contractor team is onboard to discuss the construction schedule.

-Also found out today from Expo Park that public works is working on a street widening project for MLK and a dedicated right turn lane for southbound Figueroa at MLK. We you guys aware of the project and any impacts to the My Fig plan?

Aaron,

BOE will be finalizing the package and will then advertise the project. I believe they are shooting for 3/18.

The timeline remains for construction start in mid-July.

Hi Aaron,

Mat Talag is the lead on the construction management for the project. He can give you the latest timeline/information for the advertise/bid/award process.
